

Fulfillment, Reimagined.

Transform Your Supply Chain for Digital Retailing

Today's digital consumers bring high expectations to every retail transaction. To be successful, retailers, suppliers and logistics providers must work together to align their supply chain operations with consumers' needs, so that all processes are in sync, all questions get answered, and all orders are shipped accurately and promptly.

SPS Commerce offers fulfillment solutions that go beyond traditional EDI systems to enable at-a-glance visibility into orders, payments, shipments and returns. These world-class solutions redefine how accurately, efficiently and confidently businesses can fulfill orders and exceed expectations.

Customer-Centric Order Management

Our world-class fulfillment solutions redefine order fulfillment by putting customer expectations at the forefront and capitalizing on the power of collaboration. By knowing the status of all orders at all times from a shared system, retailers and their trading partners gain the visibility and confidence they need to grow their business.

- Streamlined integration: Quickly connect with the industry's largest network of retailers, suppliers, carriers, 3PLs and more. Our solutions eliminate complexity from continuously evolving specifications and supply chain requirements to keep up with retail transformation.
- Improved productivity: Orders can be grouped and processed automatically, allowing you to focus instead on orders requiring individual attention. This "manage by exception" approach greatly reduces order-processing times. Smart alerts also help you quickly respond to critical workflow events.
- Enhanced collaboration: By working in real-time within a single, seamless trading community, team members can add feedback, comments and special instructions in context of an individual order as it is processed—reducing human error and delays.
- Complete visibility: All transaction data is available on demand to authorized users from any device, enabling them to quickly and confidently act on issues related to inventory, orders, payments, shipments and returns. Audit trails make it easy to trace actions and view transaction history.

- Consistent upgrades: Our world-class retail cloud services are continuously improved with enhancements and upgrades that keep your supply chain moving without interruption.
- Reporting and visibility: Gain visibility into all transactions required to successfully track and monitor business relationships, allowing your company to stay compliant with the ever-changing demands from trading partners.
- Supply chain excellence: With seamless integration into other omnichannel applications, including analytics, assortment and sourcing, you'll be well positioned to thrive in the digital retail era.

Options to Fit Your Business Needs

Customers can choose between web-based or integrated options based on their business needs, including order volumes and number of trading partners. Using our Integrated Fulfillment solutions, customers simply connect their business system of record (ERP, WMS or TMS) once to the retail industry's largest network to achieve seamless collaboration with current and future trading partners. Our Integrated solutions allow customers to access their EDI data from within their business system of record, while our web-based offering provides access through any standard web browser.
